SUMMARY & REFLECTION

To sum up , this program is really effective and give a good impact for students to improvise their skills before entering the working life

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

DATA ENGINEERING

COMMON MISTAKES

Constrain yourself from exploring

Don't apply for jobs after your study

Didn't improvise communication skills

What I learn from this whole program are the degree that we have one day should empower us to get a better job. Other than that, we also need to start everything as early as possible because we don't know what happen in future but the best thing always comes first. I also think that we should make some time to participate in a lot of activities because by joining these activities , it can build our teamwork , communication skills , brave and also gain knowledge from those activities. Our social networking also can be expanded because we always meet new people and that can train us how to handle with people's personality and fit in society
